CST 301 : Incident Analysis & Response

This course provides students with both a practical and conceptual background and understanding about the key considerations in computer security. Methods to identify vulnerabilities within computer networks and the countermeasures that mitigate risks and damages will also be addressed.

Credits 3
Prerequisites
CST-201