

NTR 417 : Medical Nutrition Therapy II

This course examines the etiology and current medical management of diseases where diet modifications are prescribed in the treatment of the patient. An examination of the nutritional concerns of the elderly is included in this course. A community nutrition education project is required. (Formerly known as "Nutrition and Human Disease")

Credits 4

Prerequisites

NTR 404