

SOC 303 : Sociological Theory

This course provides students with an introduction to the theoretical debates organizing the development of sociology in the west. Students will be introduced to those pivotal works which serve as the historical foundation of the discipline, selected non-dominant theories, and contemporary theoretical debates.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

SOC-101 , Junior Sociology Major